Dear Client,

Thank you for your consideration of assigning a professional photographic session with Dan Lindberg.

It is of utmost importance that you know what the images are going to be used for.

- If the intention is internet presentations on websites, blogs, social medias, online brochures & sharing images worldwide for screenview only - then you need only the web image resolution. These are of equal quality visually on the screen but not physically printable and thus, more economical to acquire.
- If you need the assigned images to be printed - a paper brochure, an advertisement in a magazine, bookprinting, a popup in an exhibition or just printing ordinary paper photographs - then you need the high resolution images.

Welcome to no compromise photography and a powerful marketing tool.

Yours sincerely,
 Dan Lindberg
